YOUR COMPLETE PRODUCE AND PACKING FACILITY BELT AND LACING SUPPLIER

If your facility requires FDA approved belting, modular belt or even cleaning systems, Bowman Hollis can help you get your packing lines to conform to whatever cleanliness requirements are needed. If that is not a concern, we stock a large variety of transport belting for all areas of your packing and processing lines.

Moving produce requires the correct cleats, buckets and sidewalls to make sure your product gets to market in the best shape possible. The right belt construction also ensures no product is lost or creates jams or belt tears if it falls off the line into the equipment. Bowman Hollis will evaluate your needs and issues and will find a solution to maximize your production

Bowman Hollis can supply your packing lines with lacing and lacing tools to fix broken belts fast. Less down time means more produce packed and shipped out the door. What ever size lacing or lacing tools you need, we will keep you running.
